About me: I've been working in the autonomous vehicle sector for the last five years. This has allowed me to gain understanding in the field of technology. I thrive in fast paced and changing environment.

I've made the decision to switch careers to create a better work life balance, challenge myself with something new, acquire new skills and to add more options to my career choices.

Where I've been:

- 9 years of commercial driving and delivery driver experience
- 5 years of flatbed and tanker driving experience
- have worked with similar technology with Waymo and Pony.AI.

Where I'm going:

- learning more about HTML , CSS, and JavaScript in the coming months.
- Working for a company applying my new skills I have learned.

How I plan to get there:

- UC Berkeley Program learning HTML, CSS, and JavaScript
- Criminal Justice Vocational
- Use previously acquired knowledge from past positions.
- Use experience from TTRPG for creative problem solving and conflict resolution.
